

Martin Barr 2010 MX2 Red Bull Pro Nationals champion

The final round of the exciting Red Bull Pro Nationals series went to the wire at Wakes Colne this weekend.

Martin Barr had to dig deep and ride consistently in the competitive MX2 class to stay ahead of closest rival Elliott Banks Browne. The Irish star did just that and was crowned CHAMPION after two solid rides.

“I didn’t have the best of starts today in either race but I’ve walked away with the 2010 Red Bull Pro National championship which I’m pumped about. I’m now off to the USA today for this weekend’s MXDN, so still plenty of racing still left.”

The series has been a successful one for PAR Honda as Brad Anderson also won the MX1 title but missed this weekend’s final round due to flying out to the USA to represent TEAM GB at the Nations.

We would like to wish Martin and Brad the best of luck in Denver and do your countries proud.
